EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. Examiner has left a voice mail message in the voice mail box of Vic Lin, applicant's undersigned, on 3/20/2006, concerning an informality in claim 17. The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Claim 17: in line 2, delete "a" (between continuous and wave).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1-20 are allowed because the prior art fail to teach or fairly suggest a method and apparatus for operating a continuous wave laser as claimed in claims 1, 9, and 17.

Regarding Ohtomo et al. (US Patent 5991325), Ohtomo discloses an apparatus and method for driving a laser light source as shown in Fig. 2 with a continuous wave laser source 100 and a input pulse from clock generation and timing unit applied to the laser source. Ohtomo teaches the input pulse being larger than the threshold current, the requirement for operating the laser, in col. 4, lines 37-45 in order to control the laser output. However, Ohtomo fails to teach applying input pulse to the laser which is characterized by a power metric at least one order of magnitude greater than the power metric defined by the combination of the characteristic input voltage amplitude and characteristic input current threshold.

Okbayashi (US Patent 6192060) also teaches in Fig. 2 about driving the continuous wave laser with a pulse current driver 2 by a pulse current controller which received feedback from the photodetector 5. However, Okbayashi does not teach applying input pulse to the laser which is characterized by a power metric at least one order of magnitude greater than the power metric defined by the combination of the characteristic input voltage amplitude and characteristic input current threshold.

Odagawa (US Patent 5987044) discloses in Fig. 5B an apparatus for driving the laser diode with a pulse current driver 13a-13d to supply pulse current to the laser. The bias current 12 is provided with the same amount of current as threshold current of the laser diode and the pulse current 13a-d provide the modulation current which exceeds the threshold current when the pulse is provided (col. 1, lines 55-65). However, the modulation current (pulse source) is only 5mA while the threshold current is 25mA. Therefore Odagawa fails to teach the claimed invention.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
